

GolfTraxx.com

The Greatest Cheats The Game of Golf Has EVER Known

We have all seen the videos...we have all heard the stories...Sad as it is to say, we all know the truth...there are unfortunately, a LOT of cheaters when it comes to golf. Golf, historically defined as the ultimate gentleman's game, and whose character was supremely exemplified by golfing greats such as Bobby Jones, and the rules of golf, is under attack at its very foundation by these cheats.

Recent examples that come quickly to mind are former "Commander in Cheat" President Donald Trump, well-known for his cheating exploits at golf.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=INxGbTHyvc>

More than a few of the world's highest ranking players have been caught. Perhaps the most recent example is Patrick Reed:

<https://www.si.com/golf/2020/02/19/patrick-reed-cheating-golf-peter-kostis>

But Patrick is FAR from the only cheater identified ACCUSED in professional golf:

<https://www.sportscasting.com/worst-pro-golf-scandals-history/>

*NOTE: some of these players listed in the above scandals article really got unfair treatment as far as the accusations in this author's view.

Some of the corporate tour sponsors have also been caught such as the senior executives at a major bank between 2013-2017 (who now claim they had no idea...Hmmm...)

<https://collider.com/dirty-money-season-2-trailer/>

Famous courses at Greyhawk (Raptor and Talon) in Arizona have been named in "honor" of the biggest corporate scandal in US history (Enron) in which political favor seems to have been gained even from Presidents on the golf course costing investors hundreds of billions:

<https://www.c-span.org/video/?180662-6/enron-investigation>

But the current investigations by the US justice department, the Federal Trade Commission, and 15 state attorney generals (including California's outgoing attorney general), and now the Federal Communications Commission into golf (and of course corporate) cheating by the several of the world's largest corporations in business stands to top all of the tales of golf cheating you've EVER heard...

Who are these corporations you ask? Well some of these corporations have been named in previous news posts here on the site, but here's the current list:

1. COMCAST (owner of NBC, NBC Sports, golfnow, golfadvisor, golfpass)
2. Google Corporation and its subsidiary Pocket
3. Microsoft (and subsidiaries Bing, and Azure)
4. Garmin
5. Amazon

More importantly what are they accused of cheating of? As you may already know if you've been following our Press Releases, the only contact made between Google and myself are the reports I submitted about the actions they took which I reported to the FBI and the California Attorney General, the Justice Department, the Federal Trade Commission. the US Patent and Trademark Office, and the Federal Communications Commission.

1. 2019 Google bot delivered SQL-injection attacks
2. 2019 Google-created links to thousands of our course scorecard edit pages used by our content editors
3. 2019 Subsequent Pakistani requests for those scorecard edit pages also numbering close to 20,000 per month.
4. 2019 Google's repeated declinations to respond to our filed complaint to Business Consumer Alliance:

<https://golfraxx.com/1stResponsefromBusinessConsumerAlliance.png>

https://golfraxx.com/2nd_ResponsefromBusinessCosumerAlliance.png

5. Subsequent repeated attacks in 2019-2020 through unauthorized access to the site, which has been proven to have been supplied as a “backdoor” by COMCAST in which an estimated 10-12,000 courses in the golfraxx.com data have had data deleted, corrupted, pages sabotaged and changed by unauthorized server access.
6. Systematic exclusion by Google and Bing of 99.9999% of golfraxx site pages having metadata and content for 30,000 courses in favor of an undisclosed agreement with COMCAST to place its subsidiaries pages for sites even where content didn't exist in the TOP pages of Google search results...thereby CHEATING our site out of millions of page views for many years.

https://golfraxx.com/news_press/google_site_maps.html

7. Unusual activities on my laptop and home network during 2019-2020, reported by my ISP, COMCAST, where dozens of unauthorized devices were added to my home network, and a “bot” was installed by the ISP, COMCAST, which has been executing a man-in-the-middle attack against my home network, and a packet overflow attack forcing my laptop to send every packet of information to Google DNS, Google Subsidiary Pocket, and to COMCAST, which was being used to perform real-time surveillance and to delete in virtual real time updates made to the golfraxx site. In one packet analysis it was found Pocket had submitted 10,000 POST requests to the home network in the span of a single hour.
8. Google caught redhanded in its Google Search Console creating close to 14,000 “fake” search result links to pages in golfraxx without results, which Google claimed were “discovered links” which Google was in fact using to mislead Googlers about the content quality of our site. Google subsequently removed those links an hour after they had been reported to the regulators.

9. Microsoft Bing acknowledging site maps and discovered links of 4 million URLs from our site in its webmaster tools, approximately 2 million of which are intended for site visitors, and representing that it had 17,000 links to the golftraxx site, while actual links totalled approximately 100 and the remainder were either fake links or links to unrelated sites.
10. Unauthorized network access also detected from Microsoft Azure servers during 2019 and 2020 on my home network, and repeated CEASE and DESIST communications sent to Microsoft but went unanswered until now.
11. Unauthorized large scale network access to my home network also detected from Amazon and Garmin servers during 2019 and 2020.

On October 20, 2020, the US Justice Department filed suit against Google:

<https://www.justice.gov/opa/pr/justice-department-sues-monopolist-google-violating-antitrust-laws>

FINALLY, in early December, the California Attorney General requested to join the suit, under intense pressure, based on complaints it had IN FACT received from people like me who had been CHEATED by Google for many months but had chosen to sweep those received complaints under the carpet in favor of campaign contributions received from Google. By December 17, three additional state attorney generals asked to join the federal suit:

<https://www.justice.gov/opa/pr/three-additional-states-ask-court-join-justice-department-antitrust-suit-against-google>

On January 5, 2021, the Federal Communications Commission served COMCAST with a complaint and provided 30 days to respond to the allegations of CHEATING in its top-of-the-pyramid role in the broadcasting and reporting of golf, related to illegally installing bots through its routers on home network equipment if provides for the purpose of surveilling and reporting to other corporations the internet activities of its customers, and knowingly enabling corporate crime through sabotage of another competing golf website.

The question on EVERYONE's mind is why would the wealthiest corporations in the world seek to destroy one man's website (among the thousands of other businesses they have in fact similarly cheated , and are therefore being sued). In classic narcissistic style, once accused, they further attack the innocent, instead of changing their illegal and unethical behavior. The creator of this site who had just recently been stricken by cancer in 2018 and survived a major surgery, whose means were very limited as the result.

One of the best suggested explanations is the FACT that these same corporations caught redhanded in the act of executing these attacks are in fact the SAME corporations that will be required to pay royalties if the patent submission to the US Patent and Trade Office I made in April, 2020 for which provisional patent status was already obtained is finally approved.

Having played in the 1981 NAIA National Championships in Houston, TX myself, and having carded a person best 33-31= 64 (-8) the same year at my home course Riverwood in Oregon, I have a deep and undying respect and love for this great game. There is no good that could EVER possible come from CHEATERS who leverage their monopolistic power to harm others and profit from our great game.

I hereby swear to do EVERYTHING in my power to bring these corporate cheaters to justice and have challenged regulators to block these corporate CHEATERS from receiving a single shred of the profits from their cheating and evil acts towards me and other American businesses. In golf, as we ALL know, they're officially kicked to the curb...not allowed to compete in future events after being caught CHEATING, yet knowing what we know now, until justice is served, we will all have to pause every time we sit down to watch our favorite sport, and try to overcome the nausea, as we watch the broadcasts from these corporate CHEATERS (who wouldn't even be allowed to participate in the championships because of being caught CHEATING in the sport) who are in FACT still being allowed to broadcast and reap the PROFITS of our sports most elite championships.

A proposed New Year's resolution for us all: ZERO tolerance and ZERO support for known CHEATERS in sport or in life. And to the narcissistic corporate executives who commit these predatory and illegal acts and direct others to do the same for financial gain while you are knowingly harming others: you have NO EXCUSE. Make your New Year's resolution to change your evil ways and make amends to those you have harmed. To the PGA of America, and PGA Tour as well as the Royal and Ancient Golf Association, please join me in my ZERO TOLERANCE FOR CHEATING and NOT A SINGLE SHRED OF PROFIT TO CORPORATE CHEATERS pledges.

You can HELP by clicking here: https://www.gofundme.com/f/golfraxxcom?utm_source=customer&utm_medium=copy_link&utm_campaign=m_pd+share-sheet

Frank DeBenedetti
GolfTraxx.com